AN INTERESTING ADMISSION IF NOT SOMEWHAT OVERDUE

Under the heading "The "last Supper" for anti-Fascist stalwarts" an article printed in the Jewish Chronicle of March 3rd 2006 carried a few admissions. We were told that the anti-British 43 Group was "dedicated to fighting Fascism by means within or outside British law." Group chairman, Gerry Flamberg said his Jewish group were more ruthless than the British nationalists they attacked. Troublemaker, Alf Summers said he would turn up at Ridley Road, fists clenched and ready for action.

When did we ever see headlines such as "Jewish thugs attack British patriots"? Never but by their own admission they did, and often. The reason that Jewish attackers got away with so much, and that British patriots were reluctant to retaliate was that the press was predominately in the hands of politically-motivated Jews or their left-wing sympathisers. Attacks carried out by communist or Jews were never reported, while any violent activity engaged in by white British patriots would be widely broadcast forever and a day. The same kind of media bias against whites is found in the media today.

With odds stacked heavily against British patriots during the 1930s, Sir Oswald Mosley wrote to the then Home Secretary saying, "Your new legislation has put Jews above the law. Would you please state if this was your intention?"

Without such enemies as the 43 Group, the Jewish Board of Deputies and the Jewish / left-wing controlled media we British would never have lost control of our country. There would have been no second-world-war, nor Suez crisis, Falklands war, Gulf war, no incursion into the Balkans or involvement in Afghanistan or Iraq. Our Empire would have remained intact leaving us with a large trading area and healthy manufacturing base. The Africans and Asians in our former colonies would by now be trained to a level where they could run their own countries. Under continued British rule there would be no famine or wide-scale disease as exists today and the IMF/ World Bank would never have been able to saddle the poorest people of the world with crippling interest bearing loans. There would be no EU. The Einstein / Oppenheimer atom bomb would never have been created and there would have been no Afro-Asian invasions of European lands.

Of course most Jews are happy to live here and just get on with their lives, just as the majority of Muslims residing in the UK are not plotting attacks against us. Even with home grown IRA terrorism only a tiny fraction of the Irish community were involved. It only takes a relatively few dedicated fanatics to create an enormous problem. What has made our nation's predicament substantially worse is that we had already lost control of our country by 1939 and not enough of our people have yet realised that alarming fact. For over sixty years the British have been mere observers of their own downfall powerless to do anything about it. This is something that our people need to seriously think about and remedy while we still have a nation to save.

It seems unbelievable that a hostile alien fifth column has been able to dominate European nations for nearly a hundred years. The sad fact is that only around 16% of the public think in an analytical way. The majority merely believe, without question, what they see on TV and read in the newspapers. They don't realise that the mass media is tightly controlled by the same kind of arrogant Jews who have been destroying Christendom for generations.

The problem we have is that when you try to explain the facts to the unthinking they won't listen, as they believe they know. Jews are in a far more favourable position, they select thousands of people to watch over them, and have an army of professionals to advise their people on every subject.
